

David H. Ricks & Associates / Inland Empire Law Group, Rancho Cucamonga, CA.
1992 to present.

David started his litigation practice handling all types of matters in construction, business, real estate, intellectual property and civil matters of many types. Familiarity with the needs of small business, while familiar with the legal process and specifically the court procedures, David has successfully navigated businesses through the difficulties of litigation.

David Ricks has been also practicing in the areas of personal injury, wrongful death claims and employment litigation.

Through the years, David H. Ricks has handled over 1500 cases.

Covington & Crowe, Ontario, CA. Mr. Ricks began his practice in construction and business litigation, handling (and winning) an evidentiary hearing the day following his first day as an attorney. Within two years, Mr. Ricks expanded to handle injury related claims and was head of the personal injury department within three years.

“I enjoy being a lawyer. It is a profession that allows me to help others in their time of need. The reason people come to see me is because they have a problem they cannot solve on their own. I look at my position as a problem solver, not a problem creator. I want to leave my clients in a better state than when they came to me. Ultimately, I want my clients to feel that they have received top quality representation and advice, regardless of the outcome.”
